DISTILLERY

SINGLE POT STILL

Introducing Clonakilty Single Pot Still Irish Whiskey, the maiden whiskey to be 100% distilled and matured by the multi-award winning Clonakilty Distillery. This is the quintessential style of Irish whiskey, distilled from barley grown at the edge of the Atlantic ocean on our family farm in County Cork, and triple distilled in copper pot stills.

It is here on the Southwest coast of Ireland that centuries of sea mist, soft rain, and ocean spray provide a complexity to the soil that permeates through to each individual grain of our barley.

Post extra-long 100+ hour fermentation, and distillation at our eco-efficient distillery, the whiskey is matured in ex-Bourbon, Amontillado sherry and Oloroso sherry casks at our Atlantic Ocean Warehouse. Here the coastal air imbues the casks with a distinct maritime flavor profile.

Following cask disgorging, we gently cut the whiskey to bottling strength over a period of up to two weeks, allowing for a harmonious blending of flavors.

Finally, all of our whiskey bottling is undertaken in-house, to ensure authentic, unparalleled quality to our customers.

CLONAKILTY DISTILLERY

It takes something of a maverick spirit, to turn the idea of building a craft distillery, into a reality. A spirit you'll find here in Clonakilty.

Out here, people do things their own way. Like the Scully family - farming here for nine generations. Taking the considered view that Irish whiskey could be improved, by harnessing natural elements in a unique and more sustainable way. So they did just that.

Building a distillery. Growing their own barley on land where the salty air and soft rain infuse every grain. Combining malted and unmalted barley. Triple-distilling the whiskey. Maturing it in oak casks, exposed to the Atlantic air.

The result: a premium, award-winning whiskey with a sweet, full-bodied character and a long, enduring finish. Balanced. Distinctive. Authentic.

Ask anyone in Clonakilty how they did all this, they'll keep you talking all day. Ask why, and they'll simply say, "It's in our nature".
